

Norres Baggerman Group Acquires Brazilian Hose Manufacturer Sunflex Mangueiras

Acquisition expands production capacity and lays the foundation for further growth in South America

Gelsenkirchen / São Paulo (Brazil), 18 August 2026

Norres Baggerman Group (NBG), one of the world's leading manufacturers and suppliers of industrial hose and connection solutions, has acquired the Brazilian hose manufacturer Sunflex Mangueiras. This acquisition strengthens the Group's presence in South America and establishes a strategic foundation for further growth across the region. At the same time, NBG expands its production capacity and further enhances its local market presence in one of South America's most important growth markets.

Based in the Greater São Paulo area, Sunflex Mangueiras has been successfully operating in the market for more than 20 years and has established itself as a manufacturer of high-quality extruded plastic hoses. The privately owned company enjoys an excellent reputation for the quality, reliability and durability of its products.

"With Sunflex Mangueiras, we have gained an established manufacturer with strong product expertise, a solid market position and an experienced team. This acquisition marks an important milestone in our international growth strategy and further strengthens our position in South America," says Thomas Gela, CEO of Norres Baggerman Group.

NBG is already well established in the South American market through its sales organisation. Until now, customers in the region have been supplied from the Group's international manufacturing sites. With the acquisition of Sunflex Mangueiras, the Group now has a local manufacturing platform that brings it closer to its customers, improves delivery performance and responsiveness, and lays the foundation for further growth across South America.

Sunflex Mangueiras will become part of the Norres Baggerman Group and will continue to serve as a trusted partner for customers in Brazil and across South America. By combining their expertise, the Group will offer customers an even broader portfolio of high-performance hose solutions.
